Chapter 363: The Eight Archangels

As Sung Jin-Woo's divine power continued to grow and the multiverse expanded under his protection, he saw the need for a new force to bolster the celestial ranks. To ensure that every corner of creation was safeguarded and that divine justice prevailed, he created another archangel, bringing the total to eight.

Azrael, the Vanguard of the Divine Army

From luminous light, Sung Jin-Woo formed Azrael, the Archangel of Death and Judgment. Azrael's purpose was clear: to serve as the vanguard of Gabriel's divine army. His presence would strike fear into the hearts of those who dared to oppose the divine will, while bringing peace to those who sought redemption.

Role: Vanguard of the divine army, leading the charge in battles and cleansing realms of corruption.

Appearance: Azrael was adorned in radiant silver armor, with a black and gold halo floating above his head. His six shimmering wings reflected both light and shadow, signifying his dual role in delivering justice and mercy.

Weapons: Wielding the Scythe of Eternity, capable of severing the essence of existence, and the Shield of Lumina, protecting his allies from any harm.

Authority: Azrael had the power to judge souls, guiding them to their rightful place in the afterlife or granting them a second chance through Sung Jin-Woo's resurrection power.

The Eight Archangels

The creation of Azrael completed the divine hierarchy of Sung Jin-Woo's archangels. Together, these eight beings served as the pillars of divine order and strength across the multiverse:

1. Gabriel: The Captain of Battle Angels, overseeing all angelic forces and their strategies.

2. Michael: The Archangel of Blessings, responsible for spreading divine blessings and hope across realms.

3. Israfel: The Archangel of Judgment, ever ready to blow the trumpet that signifies the end of defiance against the divine.

4. Azrael: The Archangel of Death and Judgment, leading the vanguard and purifying corruption.
5-8. The Four Bearers of the Throne: Tasked with upholding the True Absolute One's throne, each possessing unparalleled strength and authority.

Balance and Strength

With the addition of Azrael, the archangels' roles became more defined, ensuring that every facet of divine will was represented:

Gabriel and Azrael worked together in the battlefield, leading and protecting the divine armies.

Michael brought blessings and hope, while Israfel ensured that judgment was swift and absolute.

The Four Bearers of the Throne remained in Sung Jin-Woo's presence, symbolizing his unshakable authority and omnipotence.

Impact Across Realms

The presence of the eight archangels inspired awe and reverence throughout the realms. Their divine missions brought order, peace, and justice to countless beings. With Sung Jin-Woo's unparalleled power guiding them, the multiverse thrived, its balance unshaken.
